

This Life is But for a Moment
(Parody of "100 Years" by Five For Fighting)

This life is but for a moment
Caught in between hell and heaven
And you're just dreamin'
Thinkin' God loves you as you are

This life is but for a moment
Your sin is stronger than ever
The earth's on fire
Making fag marriage your law

Repent, there's still time for you
Time for you to tell the truth
Neighbor, there's never a wish better than this
Than that all of you would obey and repent

This life is but for a moment
Christ said to go and sin no more
How can you pretend that
We are castin' stones?

This life is but for a moment
God's wrath is high
You are heading into a crisis
Making your idols your life

Repent, there's still time for you
Thankful our parents tell the truth – and we'll
Hold it within our hearts

Repent, there's still time for you
Neighbor, there's never a wish better than this
Than that all of you would obey and repent

This life goes by
Obeying God is wise
In just a blink of an eye
Then this life is gone
The end is drawing nigh
Time is movin' on.

This life is just for a moment
It's time for truth for just a moment
Cuz our Redeemer
Counting the days when He'll come back

Repent, there's still time for you
Time for you to hear the truth
It can be – this is the day
Every day – you can obey
(oh oh ohs)
Repent, there's still time for you
Time for you to heed the truth
Hey neighbor -- there's never a wish better than this
Than that all of you would obey and repent
